THE TEXT BOOK QUESTION.

The State Board of Education meet in Carson to-day for the purpose of making a change in the text books now in use in our public schools. We are opposed to any change that will impose an additional tax upon the parents of this State. We are specially opposed to any change at this time for the very good reason that the subject has not been sufficiently agitated to give the State Board any correct impression of public sentiment upon this question, and before any new books are substituted for the ones now in use we think the parents ought to be allowed an opportunity of expressing their preference or opposition. The California publishers have been soliciting the endorsement of our teachers, and in many cases successfully. But public opinion has not been pronounced enough to warrant an immediate change. The California Legislature, the first week of its session, passed a bill through, prohibiting any change in text books. Governor Irwin signed the bill. And while the Legislature may possibly enact new legislation before the session expires, it will not be wise on the part of our State Board to take any steps until we see what California does, mainly for the reason of uniformity in the two States. We are not disposed to be captious in this matter. We are not opposed to any change that will prove advantageous to our public school system, but we are opposed to making the people pay for new books, which are very inferior in several respects, and which have not been adopted as the standard for California schools.

MOSES.

There is much excitement in Charleston, South Carolina, so the telegraph says, in consequence of the election by the Legislature of eight Circuit Judges and one Associate Justice of the Supreme Court. Wright (colored) is chosen to the latter place. In the Charleston Circuit, Reed, moderate Republican, is replaced by Whipper, (colored). Ex Governor F. G. Moses Jr. is elected in the third Circuit. There ought to, in our judgement, be much excitement. In fact the excitement should be so intense as to hang the members who voted for Moses. This ex-Governor is the scoundrel who took delight in pardoning the worst classes of thieves, cut throats and murderers, out of the State Prison, giving them Executive clemency by the wholesale. He made a record that would cause Boss Tweed to blush. The return to power of such a villain is a disgrace to any country.

THE VALLEJO CHRONICLE give publicity to reports concerning the settlement of the suit between the California Pacific Railroad and its bondholders, which are very important if they be confirmed. It states that the compromise papers have been signed, sealed and delivered, and that the terms regarding the payments for the bonds are as they have heretofore been announced in the press. Further, that the California Pacific management bind themselves to bring the overland travel over this road; to relay the road bed with steel rails, and to make Vallejo the terminus of the California and Oregon road. The diversion of the overland travel from the Western Pacific road to the Vallejo route would, of course, make an important difference in the matter of time.

THE NEW STATE PRISON.

The New York Times makes the official announcement that the Republicans national committee will meet Thursday, January 18th, at 10 A.M., at the Arlington Hotel, Washington, for the purpose of fixing the time and place for holding the next Republican national convention for the nomination of President and Vice President.

FROM RENO TO CARSON.

The Northern Belle Company is going to build another twenty-stamp mill and furnace at the mine in Esmeralda county.

RENO AND ITS SURROUNDINGS.

Its Resources and Its Prospects—Converting the Sage-brush Desert into a Garden—A Quicksilver Deposit—Steamboat Springs—Bowers' Fully—Franktown.

Reno is one of the numerous railroad towns that grew up in a night, as it were, but unlike her sister towns, has proved to have more than an ephemeral existence, as she has been steadily increasing in population and prosperity until now she bids fair to become the San Francisco of Nevada. The situation is in a valley to which no outlet is visible, yet through mountain passes on opposite sides the locomotive appears and disappears every hour of the day. There are no forests except the immature ones of sage-brush, but that is fast disappearing and giving place to cultivated gardens and fields, for practical experiments prove that irrigation can make of this a garden spot equal in fertility to that of Santa Clara Valley, and the Renoites point with pardonable pride to their prolific potato and alfalfa fields, the latter often yielding from three to four crops during the season. Considerable attention is being paid to the raising of fruit, the apples proving to be of finer flavor than those of either California or Oregon, and at the last State Fair here, the display of vegetables and fruit, if not in quantity, was decidedly superior in quality to those raised in the Sacramento Valley. The climate closely resembles that of Northern California. The surrounding hills attract the clouds, and there is rarely more than enough rain to keep the dust well laid, and occasionally snow enough to make sleigh-riding pleasant. Owing to the high elevation, the atmosphere is dry, so much so that well seasoned timber from California and other places soon show a shrinkage; consequently, home manufacturers of wooden ware, wagons, etc., flourish.

Reno, as a business place, has many advantages. The surrounding hills furnish large quantities of lumber and wood, employing hundreds of workmen, and Reno is made the depot for supplies, and the many streams serving to irrigate the whole valley. The Virginia and Truckee Railroad form here a junction with the Central Pacific, the freight and travel being immense, and not many years hence will see another railroad running north, bringing the trade of Northern California here. Already the settlers of Sierra and Honey Lake Valley's come here to trade. The population is reckoned at about two thousand, and as a place of residence it is superior to any in the State. The streets are broad and regular, and the old shanties of Reno's earlier days are fast giving way to ornamental Gothic cottages and rows of substantial brick business houses. When the contemplated narrow-gauge railroad is built between here and Virginia City this undoubtedly will become the residence of gentlemen doing business in the latter place, as the transit will not take any longer than from your city to Oakland. The schools are excellent, and several religious denominations have built neat houses of worship, and all societies are in a most flourishing condition. Since the Virginia fire and the $20,000 fire at Reno at the same time, active measures have been taken to organize an efficient fire company. Already there has been over $3,000 contributed, and the wish is to raise it to $5,000.

MINING NEAR RENO—QUICKSILVER.

There are mines in close proximity to Reno that, when more fully developed, may prove to be very rich, as already the prospects are so encouraging that men of enterprise and capital are paying considerable attention to them. The Peavine District lies about twelve miles to the north, and it is said that the Washoe seers have made the same prediction about them as she did of the Comstock. The newly-discovered quicksilver mines lie about seven miles south. A responsible company have determined to develop them as rapidly as possible. A tunnel has been dug, and the richest of vermillion cinnabar is being taken out. As it is the only quicksilver yet discovered in Nevada it attracts general attention, but should the Fryer process come into general use the demand for quicksilver will become much less than it is now, as I understand it.

THE NEW STATE PRISON.

The new State Prison about one mile to the east, situated on a dead level, is slowly raising its walls. Opinions are numerous and divided as to its location and management. The appropriation made by the last Legislature was very much less than was expected or desired, and there will be little done until the meeting of the next session.

FROM RENO TO CARSON.

The distance by rail from Reno to Carson is just enough to make the ride a pleasant one. There are many places of interest on the road. The attention of the stranger is first called to the terminus of the great wood and lumber firm of Mackay & Fair, recently finished and where thousands of cords of wood are piled up ready for transportation to the mines and wood-yards of Virginia and Carson. The wood business of this road is immense, no less than six flumes of various lengths being in operation between Reno and Carson, and at no hour can one fail to see trains of fifteen to twenty cars, each averaging eight cords to the car, passing.

STEAMBOAT SPRINGS.

Steamboat Springs, a way station, is quite a curiosity as well as resort for invalids. There is a good hotel any convenient arrangements for bathers, who seem to think the water has curative qualities for nearly all the ills that flesh is heir to. The name Steamboat was given to them by the early settlers, because of the water and steam puffing up from the ground so violently as to make a noise like that of a steamboat steaming a strong current. In many places steam only issues out of the cracks or crevices, and of a strong sulphuric smell that suggests a close proximity to Pluto's regions. There are frequently new springs breaking out and old ones disappearing, and in riding over the ground a hollow sound, like that of going over a bridge, shows that there is a large cavern underneath; perhaps burnt out, with but a thin crust, as it were, between the wayfarer's feet and a literal Hades. Farther on we come to Washoe City, once the county seat, but now a deserted village. The postoffice, store and saloon make up the city, and occasionally the sound of the village blacksmith's hammer may be heard when a traveller or farmer passes and finds his horse wants a shoe. At some seasons various water fowl frequent the lake in the vicinity, and is the one attraction for the Nimrods of the adjacent country.

BOWERS' FOLLY.

A few miles distant and in sight is the Bowers Mansion, which has been long one of the features of Washoe Valley, and a monument of the extravagant folly of one of the early miners who struck it rich in Gold Hill, and not being accustomed to such sudden turns in the wheel of Fortune launched out into the wild extravagance in building a house and furnishing it too, where the hauling of the material cost more than an entire house, twice as fine, would in San Francisco. Sharpers and cheats, imposing upon his simple and shallow nature, and the man failing to pour forth its golden treasure, he soon found this costly house and furniture an elephant on his hands. Disappointment and disgust with mankind in general, and mines in particular, soon made him succumb, and death relieved him from all. The widow, hoping to pay the debts and hold it as a home, opened it as a summer resort and picnic grounds, being of easy access by railroad. The house is now, we believe, about passing into other hands. Mrs. Bowers has lately acquired some notoriety as a prophetess. Her friends say that her misfortunes and troubles have crazed her brain, but no one disputes the fact that some of her predictions have been wonderfully and fearfully verified.

We come next to Franktown, a mere hamlet or point, where to establish a post office and depot for the neighborhood, said to be, next to Genoa, the first place settled by the Mormons, when this was part of Utah. It is now distinguished by being the residence of Assemblyman Beck, who was one of the most interesting and brilliant talkers (for he made no pretension to oratorical display) in the last Legislature. Correspondence S. F. Bulletin.

The Colusa Sun thinks that the regulations of the schools should be left to the States; that the United States has no business to interfere as it does not supply the school fund. Therein the Sun is mistaken, the general government has appropriated every 16th and 36th sections of the public domain to each State for school purposes. The Sun knows that if an amendment to the Constitution, as recommended by the President is adopted and becomes part of our organic law, its favorite church can make no inroads on the school fund, and that's what's the matter with the Sun.

They have it very seriously in Philadelphia—the Centennial fever “splendid day for work on the buildings,” says Mrs. Penn to Mrs. Chestnut, her neighbor across the street, as both simultaneously throw back the shutters in the morning. “Yes,” returns Mrs. Chestnut, “any news?” “No,” responded she of illustrations “except that two cases of goods arrived last night from England.” Then Mrs. Penn goes to the head of the stairs and calls “Judith, don't let those Centennial cakes get too brown, and watch those 1876 muffins!”

An assessment of $1 per share has been levied upon the capital stock of the Savage Mining Company.

PACIFIC SLOPE BREVITIES.

California.

Sea bathing at Santa Monica; a Christmas swimming match is proposed.

Okra, the material from which our gumbo soup is made, is grown successfully at Los Angeles.

Chinamen are employed upon the water works of San Buenaventura. They are paid per diem; baths free.

The buoy which was planted near Commision Rock, in Napa Straits, some time since, having been found an unsatisfactory mark for that dangerous obstruction to navigation, another buoy will be erected on the spot.

Oregon.

Lake county has 944 inhabitants.

There are 172,000 bushels of wheat stored at Halsey, Linn county, this season.

An alleged case of crooked whisky making has been found at Vanney's Ferry, in Jackson county.

Captain Parker & Co. are building a tug boat on the Coquille, intended for the Coquille and Coos bay bars. Sixty feet keel.

The precise date of opening the State University at Eugene has not been agreed upon. A corps of teachers have been engaged.

The Territories.

The local Legislature of British Columbia will meet at Victoria on the 11th of January.

The shipment of the Seattle and Kenton Coal Companies to San Francisco during November aggregated 5,535 tons—875 tons by the Renton Company and 4,660 tons by the other.

At the opening of the Court of Assizes at Victoria the charge of Justice Gray to the Grand Jury was chiefly devoted to the Pacific disaster, in reference to which much forcible language was employed.

SECRETARY BRISTOW's lightning has now struck in St. Clair county, in Illinois. A Government revenue gauger named Sargent, and a Government storekeeper named Clark Smith, have been arrested on a charge of conspiracy with the owners of the Lebanon Distillery to defraud the revenue. They are held in custody in default of one thousand dollars bail each.

It is intimated that the first sensation in the House of Representatives in Congress, after the announcement of the Committee by Speaker Kerr, will be the introduction of resolutions for the expulsion of William S. King, Republican, of Minnesota, and J. G. Schumaker, Democrat, of New York, the Pacific Mail lobbyists. The resolution ought to pass.

As we surmised, the new Minister to China is George F. Seward, who has been Consul General at Shanghai for several years. He was a nephew to the late William H. Seward, and was originally appointed from New York. His experiences in China eminently fit him for his new position.

THE Christmas number of the sporting paper, the San Francisco Spirit of the Times, is out. It contains twenty pages of good reading matter, adorned with numerous engravings.

A WESTERN debating society has been struggling with the question: “Do boys or girls make the most noise?” It was finally decided that “they do,” after an elaborate argument, showing that half of the noise boys made was caused by the girls.

A COUNTRY hotel-keeper writes his own bill of fare, thereby saving the cost of printing. It announces “coffee, soups, roast beef, fride ham, boyled and bagt potatys, fride coul puddin and minis pi.”

It is said that Mrs. Brick Pomeroy will still continue in the publishing business, and that her husband will devote the next one hundred and fifty years to pushing libel suits.

PIOCHE JOURNAL.—This paper has commenced its third volume. It is getting to be one of the most valuable of our exchanges, and we heartily wish it continued success.

CHARLESTON, by a vote of its Common Council, has adopted the Billy goat as the engraving on its city seal. The wheel of time turns at last.

SEEMS to us that we never slept so well and felt so peaceful since Stanley discovered that Lake Nyanza had but one outlet.

Girls, make a note of this: 1876 is leap year.

FROM the London Financier we learn that the public debt of Great Britain is less by the sum of £41,004,288 than it was ten years ago, and this in spite of large outlays for the purchase of telegraph lines, construction of fortification, and other important works. The total indebtedness of the kingdom amounts to £775,348,686; during the last five years there has been an annual average reduction of £5,000,000.
